

Jean Boudreaux, PhD

Jean Boudreaux, PhD is a clinical psychologist licensed in both Louisiana and Mississippi. He provides cognitive and psychological assessment services to children, adolescents and adults. He is experienced in treatment of behaviorally disruptive professionals, substance abuse, ADHD and conduct problems, mood disorders and anxiety disorders.

Dr. Boudreaux has served as a consultant for several law enforcement agencies, providing evaluations for pre-employment as well as therapy services for sworn officers and their families. Additionally, he has served as a contractor for the Mississippi State Hospital, providing evaluations for competency to stand trial and criminal responsibility, serving as an expert witness in State Court.

Dr. Boudreaux holds a Master's degree in theology and Christian Ministry from Franciscan University of Steubenville and a PhD in clinical psychology from Jackson State University, which has an emphasis on diversity and cross-cultural psychology.

*For more information, please visit
JeffersonNeuro.com or call 1.888.JEFFNEURO*

Jefferson Neurobehavioral Group